BIOGRAPHY

24-year-old Oliver Nelson is truly taking the world by storm and is leading the current group of Nordic exports coming out of Sweden, Norway and Denmark.

Originally growing up in Stockholm, Oliverís first love of music came in the form of the drums and it wasnít until 2007 that Oliver found electronic and fell in love. The very first life track was Justice and their single "D.A.N.C.E" which inspired Oliver to explore producing music on a more serious note.

Using iReason" and "Ableton" it was some 3 years before Oliver felt he had perfected his work enough to actually put it online and let others hear his music. From that point on, the rest is near history, going from unofficial remixes to being contracted for artists such as Urban Cone, Bon Iver, Kim Cesarión, MNDR, Jutty Ranx, Keljet, Mikky Ekko, Ella Henderson, Route 94, Max Marshall, Ariana & The Rose, The Knocks, Lemaitre, Priory, Cazzette, Tove Lo, The Kooks and more.

Oliver regularly receives support from some of the webís most influential blogs, websites and YouTube channels such as Suicide Sheep, Indie Shuffle, Dancing Astronaut, Earmilk, Kick Kick Snare, The Vibe Guide, Mr Revillz and many more. Oliver has also charted No. 1 on Hype Machine 6 times over with his top remixes reaching 5 million plus in streams across platforms such as Soundcloud, YouTube and Spotify.

2014 saw another change in direction; Oliver wanted to showcase his talents to a live audience and has since become a regular DJ for French based label KistunÈ, touring the world to locations such as Munich, Zurich, Denmark, Finland, Italy and London.

The screenshot shows the Indieshuffle.com homepage with a navigation bar at the top. Below the header, there's a banner for OpenTable with the text "Find the perfect restaurant". The main content area features an interview with Naughty Boy about his song "La La La" (Ft. Sam Smith) (Tobtok & Oliver Nelson Remix). The interview includes a play button over a thumbnail image of the song cover. To the right, there's a sidebar titled "EXPLORE BY GENRE" with various genre filters like electronic, indie rock, hip-hop, etc., and a "VIEW MORE" link. Below the interview, there's a section for "What's so good?" with a post by Emily Gale from Feb 14, 2015, and social sharing buttons for Facebook, Twitter, Pinterest, and Submit. A text block discusses the interviewees' careers, followed by a quote from Tobias about their collaboration. Another quote from Oliver follows, mentioning his work with Tobtok. The bottom of the page has sections for "BEST OF 2014 PLAYLISTS" and links to download the app for iPhone and Android, along with social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Google+, and Tumblr.

Marina And The Diamonds – Froot (Oliver Nelson Remix)

By Greg Dona

Dec 10 2014

Given how spunky and charismatic the original version of Marina and The Diamonds' "Froot" is, it's truly stunning that Oliver Nelson was able to make it even spunkier and more charismatic. But that's nothing new for Swedish producer; time and again he's taken a wonderful song and pumped it full of funky energy, ultimately delivering a mind-blowingly charming and infectious track. For his new take on "Froot," Nelson adds disco strings and flutes to the unforgettable song, and the end result is a remix somehow even more extraordinary than the original.

The original version of "Froot" is available now on iTunes, and the full album – also titled Froot – is set for an April 7 release date on Neon Gold/Atlantic.

Ariana and the Rose - In Your Bed (Oliver Nelson Remix): New music

Ariana and the Rose's new single comes with a video directed by Madonna's brother, but it's this summer-tinged remix we're interested in

Michael Cragg

Thursday 27 February 2014 12.57 GMT

57 shares 0 comments

Just to clarify something before we continue, the moniker of New York's Ariana and the Rose is more akin to Florence's Machine than it is Marina's Diamonds. In other words, there's a frontwoman - in this case Ariana DiLorenzo - but there's also a band too, represented by the Rose. Got it? Okay good. Regardless of band dynamics, Ariana and the Rose make what DiLorenzo refers to as "sophisticated pop", with the original version of new single In Your Bed aided by a sultry video which was directed by Madonna's brother, Christopher Ciccone. The airy production, handled by Kyle Kelso, is also ripe for a good remix, which is where Swedish producer Oliver Nelson comes in. Premiered here is his Madonna-circa-True-Blue-esque re-working that strips out most of the original's verses in favour of layering DiLorenzo's vocals over fluttering electronic harps, house-style synth riffs and the definite sense that summer might be on its way.

By: Bradley Stern / December 8, 2014

As soon as Marina And The Diamonds reemerged with her electronic gem "Froot," the song seemed destined to be mixed and mashed for the dance floor. And so it is!

Today, Swedish producer Oliver Nelson unveiled his synth-tastic take on the track. "I'm very honored that i got the opportunity to remix this! Felt like i needed to go a bit crazy so i added some disco strings and flutes," he explained on his official Facebook page. Bolstered by warm synth vibrations and a solid stomp, the song is full of flashy, Studio 54-y nostalgic '70's disco feels. While we await the next taste of Froot from Marina's stash, this is certainly a welcome burst of

Julie Bergan – 'Younger' (Oliver Nelson remix)

Released: April 11, 2014
Label: Warner Music Norway
More info »

The proper version of this single by Norwegian singer Julie Bergan appeared back in January, and it had quite a jolly Miley-esque popstep chorus.

Tipped by Popjustice viewer Rod Dale, this new remix appeared a few days ago and turned 'Younger' into a glossy, rather charming 80s disco-inspired affair which is actually extremely fantastic.

It'll be interesting to hear what Julie comes up with next - if 'Younger' and last year's enjoyably overwrought 'Giving A Little Something Back' are anything to go by we might need to update our 100 Favourite Pop Entities list.
